1957

PRESENTATION

In this issue of the Climber, we, the Class of 1957, have attempted to set down some of the outstanding events of our high school lives. Here is recorded the happiness we have enjoyed together,
and the pride we have felt in our achievements. Unable to be set down in words, but even more important, is the better understanding of life which has been gained through our associations with our teachers and classmates. Without the untiring help of these people, as well as the everlasting cooperation and understanding of our parents, we of the Senior class would not have been able to realize our hopes and ambitions. We sincerely appreciate all that everyone has done for us, and we wish to deeply thank all those who have contributed in some way to the enrichment of our lives.

DEDICATION

In appreciation of the interest which she has shown in all our activities, and in recognition of her continued help and inspiration, we, the Class of 1957, respectfully dedicate this issue of the Climber to Mrs. Luice McCormack. Her untiring efforts to make our school functions a success will not soon be forgotten.

EDITORIAL

At a time when so many conflicts are occurring in the world, it is only fitting that man search even more intensely for some means to effect an end to war and violence. To show more fully the importance of a world peace, we, the Class of 1957, have chosen as the theme for our year-book—One World.

As man has advanced in his scientific knowledge, so has he also used this knowledge to destroy himself. Wars have become more and more prevalent. Every day the newspapers relate to the world the birth of a political, religious, or social uprising. Too often man fails to realize the importance of his fellow man. Perhaps he has, in seeking the causes of war, overlooked the fact that only a just world will be peaceful and that justice must recognize the importance of the individual. Although he has his own specific ambition in life, man must realize that he is a part of one great sphere governed by one true God. Knowing this, he might, someday, succeed in truly making this capacious world of ours One World.

Perhaps, after all, we are the generation destined to achieve this ideal. God willing, the Class of 1957 will possess the ability, the tolerance, and the foresight so necessary to bring about a lasting brotherhood among men.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

TO THE SENIORS

Congratulations on your graduation. Congratulations should also be extended to your parents who have sacrificed so much. You owe them an everlasting debt.

Rest assured, however, they seek nothing but your success and happiness. Your achievements will be their reward. Try to demonstrate your gratitude to them by word and deed and by your willingness to accept responsibility.

Together, we have had many very satisfying experiences. We sincerely hope that you will profit from them so that you may enjoy fuller lives.

In the future, do not hesitate to call if we can be of assistance. If you can find time, come to visit with us. If not, may we share with you the many happy memories which will be brought to mind with this, your Climber.

Sincerely,
PETER J. SPERANDIO

BERT L. MERRILL
SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Class of 1957:

The quality of our Nation depends largely upon the quality of its people. The quality of its people depends to a degree on adequate education, and education makes a better person do a better job with courage and vision.

The success you achieve in life will depend on how well you have prepared yourselves while in school to meet life's challenging problems when they arise.

I wish for you all a happy and successful future.

Sisters (?)

Down the hatch!

Is it really that bad?

I told you I had braids!

So there!!

Summer vacation

What's wrong?

I'm not cold!

Don't do that!

School's out!

Pals . . .

It's not that long!

Posing???

May I???

I wonder if I'll

I hope I don't fall!

Isn't this fun!

Whose car is this?

I like you, too!

Will you tie my shoe?

We're not tired, just sleepy.

Lovely hula hands.

Don't you like my size 9?

Ain't life grand?

We're going to church.

Is that the Charleston?

What's he doin' here???

I like salt!!

What's the matter, Woodie?

Smile pretty

A grad so little!

Say "cheese"

I don't need any help!

I don't want toll

I'm scared

Early to bed and early to rise . . .

My chin hurts!

A SINCERE THANK YOU . . .

The Faculty, for so patiently accepting the constant interruption of their classes by cameras, photographers and flashbulbs. This staff has deeply appreciated your cooperation.

Mr. Robert Wales, studio photographer, for his excellent work on the photography of the title pages. The lighting effects which he created were superb.

Mrs. Gladys Keith, high school secretary, for patiently announcing day after day the Climber staff's call to action . . . "There will be a meeting of the Climber staff in Room 11 . . ."

Mr. Thomas E. Graffte, faculty member, for doing such a splendid job advising the Business Staff of the Climber. Without his help our yearbook would not have been a success.

Lorings Photographers, for so willingly trudging up and down the corridors to take the tremendous number of pictures required for this yearbook.

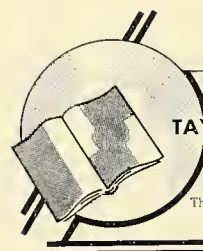

The Parents, for giving their children the eagerness and cooperation so necessary to succeed in this task. The diligence which the staff displayed under pressure was not only a credit to them, but also to their mothers and fathers.

We would also like to thank the following people who willingly contributed articles to be photographed for the title pages:

Brad Nickerson
Mrs. David MacCormack
Mr. Rathbun
Miss Edith Wolfberg
Mr. Bruce
Mrs. Hill
Mr. and Mrs. Roger Viens
Miss Janice Rylander
